The empire has been divided into eight military de-assarticla. The Bishop of Mchoacan is on his way to Europe; but notice he goes as a remonstrant to the Pope on the ut of his brother bishops, or on the part of Maximilian, on private business, the papers do not inform us. Trade at the port of Vera Cruz is said to have wonderrefred.

y further details should appear on a further exam-of M-xican newspapers, you will receive them by uner Morro Castle. At present I can add no more.

The Navy.
THE EMPLOYES ON A STRIKE.
The question of wages, it would appear, has lately created considerable trouble at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.
Some two or three thousand men have combined for the purpose of controlling this matter, and there was a reasonable prespect yesterday that they would be joined by the remainder of the mechanics employed upon gov-ernment work. The rule had been adopted that the men id do a day's fair labor for a day's wages, and a mmission had been appointed to see that the rule was months, the understanding being that the prices paid should correspond with those paid by first class outside shops. Still the government was at the mercy of the arkmen, who combined with trade unions and other surkmen, who combined with trade unions and other associations, and were thus enabled to fix the prices at whatever rates they thought best. The strike now iff progress is general, and has been caused by a reduction is about fifty cents per day, lately ordered. Men who were carning four dollars per day, have been cut down to three dollars and fifty cents by the authorities at Washington, without regard to the action of the Congressional commission to fix the rate of wages. The strike commenced at noon on Monday. Yesterday all the ship parpenters, first class joiners, most of the second class, and all the riggers, caulkers and sparmakers quit at loon, and caused an almost entire suspension of business.

Baltimore. Baltimore, April 11, 1865.

Vice Admiral David G. Farragut, United States Navy, arrived here at six o'clock this morning from Fortress Monroe, in the steamer Louisiana, Captain Porter, and nd committee, and many citizens. He was accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Captain Penneck, Miss Cur ise, Miss Buttrick and Mrs. Colonel Lamb. As soon as the sleamer was announced to be at the rai to the city, accompanied by the committees of the two branches. The procession was then formed, and the Ad-airal was escorted to the Eutaw House, receiving on his way thither enthushastic greetings from the citizens. The city councils give him a public dinner this after-son. He leaves to-morrow for New York.

Wanted a substitute for Calomel. This is the object that has drawn the attention of the majority of medical men for years, without any apparent hope of success; the principal difficulty being to find a substance equal in its action, and producing all the good effects of mercury, without leaving any of its bad effects. It has been clearly proved that in cases where mercury has been freely used and a cure effected, that the injurious effects of this substance on the system is worse than the disease itself.

Among the many who felt the importance of this subject, and made & an object of special study and experiment, was Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philiadelphis, who found it necessary to discover some substance to take the place of Calomet, to use in connection with his Syrup and Tonic, in the treatment of diseases of the liver and stomach, and the treatment of diseases of the liver and stomach, and the treatment of the same of the condent will to work, and spared nother trouble nor expense in the furtherance of his endeavors.

Success at length crowned his efforts, and he has been exabled to offer to the public an article which he is confident will answer all the the requirements long sought after, and will, no answer all the the requirements long sought after, and will, no
